

THE NINE QUALITIES OF THE BUDDHA:

- | | |
|---------------------------------|---|
| 1. Araham | 1. He who has attained the Truth |
| 2. Samma-sambuddho | 2. The Worthy One, Rightly Self-awakened |
| 3. Vijjacarana-sampanno | 3. Consummate in knowledge & conduct |
| 4. Sugato | 4. One who has gone the good way |
| 5. Lokavidu | 5. Knower of the cosmos |
| 6. Anuttaro purisa dammasarathi | 6. Unexcelled trainer of those who can be tamed |
| 7. Sattha devamanussanam | 7. Teacher of human & divine beings |
| 8. Buddho | 8. Awakened |
| 9. Bhagava | 9. Blessed |

THE FOUR NOBLE TRUTHS:

- | | |
|----------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1. Dukkha | 1. Stress |
| 2. Samudaya | 2. The Beginning of Stress |
| 3. Nirodha (Nibbana) | 3. The End of Stress |
| 4. Magga | 4. The Path of Stress Reduction |

THE EIGHTFOLD NOBLE PATH:

- | | |
|-------------------|------------------------|
| 1. sammā-ditṭhi | 1. Right view |
| 2. sammā senkappa | 2. Right resolve |
| 3. sammā-vācā | 3. Right speech |
| 4. sammā-kammanta | 4. Right action |
| 5. sammā-ājīva | 5. Right livelihood |
| 6. sammā-vāyāma | 6. Right effort |
| 7. sammā-sati | 7. Right mindfulness |
| 8. sammā-samādhi | 8. Right concentration |

$$9 \cdot (4+8) = 108$$

$$\text{Buddha} \cdot (\text{Dhamma}) = 108$$